KEYNOTE

▼ ▼ ▼ Man strives to conquer. As yet he has been unsuccessful. He has accomplished little. His mightiest bridge is without an engineer, his most beautiful song lacks a composer, and his powerful airships rot in their hangers for want of a pilot. He hasn't in all his civilization a perfect school, an economical railroad, or a sound government. His most exact and advanced sciences are being fundamentally revised. Time proves his inventions useless. Men need minds, wonderful minds, brilliant minds. If the college youth of America could only realize this, there would be fewer beer parties, victory holidays and unearned degrees.

Russ Hall

Housing the administrative offices and eight departments, Russ Hall stands as the largest and oldest building on the campus.

"WHAT WE ARE"

U P H E A V E L

▼ ▼ ▼ . . . peace, war, the bull-market, prosperity, a chicken in every pot, two cars in every garage, the crash, the market collapse, suicides, bread-lines, war debts, the moratorium, unemployment, march on the capital, relief, unrest, the alphabetic agencies, the codes, dictatorships, communism, democracy, bureaucracy, the old deal, the new deal, the new deal, new frontiers for youth, security, the Townsend Plan, every man a king, social security, old age pensions, the lefts, the rights, the constitution, government by executive decree, the nine old men in black, politics, economics, sociology. . . .

Carney Hall

Containing the science departments and the main auditorium, Carney Hall is one of the best equipped buildings of its kind in the state.

CHALLENGE

▼ ▼ ▼ You, college youth, have the honor and the responsibility of belonging to a generation whose lips are touched by fire. The human race, including men of all colors, creeds and denominations, is now passing through one of its greatest crises. Revolution involving new ideas, new issues and heralding a call for men to carry on the work of righteousness, of charity, of courage, of patience and of loyalty is on all sides of us. When you are old and recalling memories of younger days, let time be able to say, "That was a great moment. This world in its crisis called for volunteers. I gave myself to my master . . . the cause of human and brave living. I studied, I loved, I labored, unsparingly and hopefully, to be worthy of my generation."

Frances Willard Hall

Accommodating one-hundred and eleven women, Frances Willard Hall is one of the coziest and most hospitable spots on the campus.

CHARACTER

▼ ▼ ▼ A call for master builders. To the grocer who sells sixteen ounces of sugar for a pound at a fair price, the gardener who cultivates beautiful roses and dahlias, the mother who maintains a happy and serene soul amid the distractions of home management, the chemist who seeks through painstaking research an inexpensive process for the manufacture of a new synthetic fabric, the diligent members of the local tuberculosis association, the voter who faithfully works for the most competent candidate regardless of the party . . . all these and many other honest, faithful, competent men and women in various walks of life are making contributions to the welfare of their fellow men.

Cafeteria

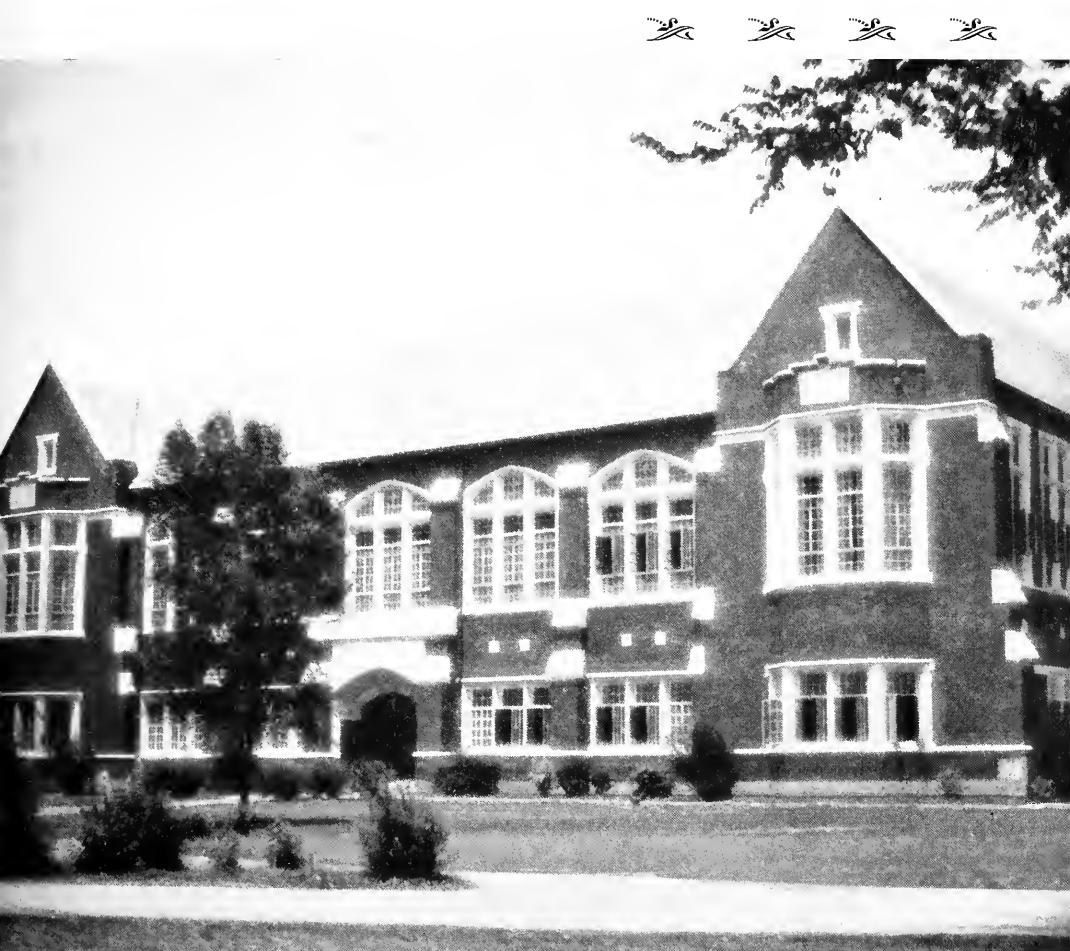

Always giving the best in food and service, the Cafeteria is both a dining and social center.

P U R P O S E

▼ ▼ ▼ The power of man increases steadily by continuance in one direction. He who is without purpose drifts aimlessly as a boat without a crew into the haven of insecurity, restlessness, despair and obliteration. Lost is he who harbors no desire, who makes no creative effort for self advancement. He who is false to the duty and the vision of his generation cuts himself adrift from the swift moving current of civilization.

Porter Library

Built in the Old English style of architecture, Porter Library ranks high among collegiate libraries of the country.

▼ ▼ ▼ To you, the youth of America, now nearing the close of your formal . . . much too formal . . . education, comes a call for action. Bewildered, you behold the sorry scheme of things which the passing generation is about to bequeath to you. You see the need for builders of a new world. To you the torch of responsibility is being flung with the same faith by which it was received a generation ago. May you receive it with enthusiasm. May you bear it with courage and foresight.

Music Hall

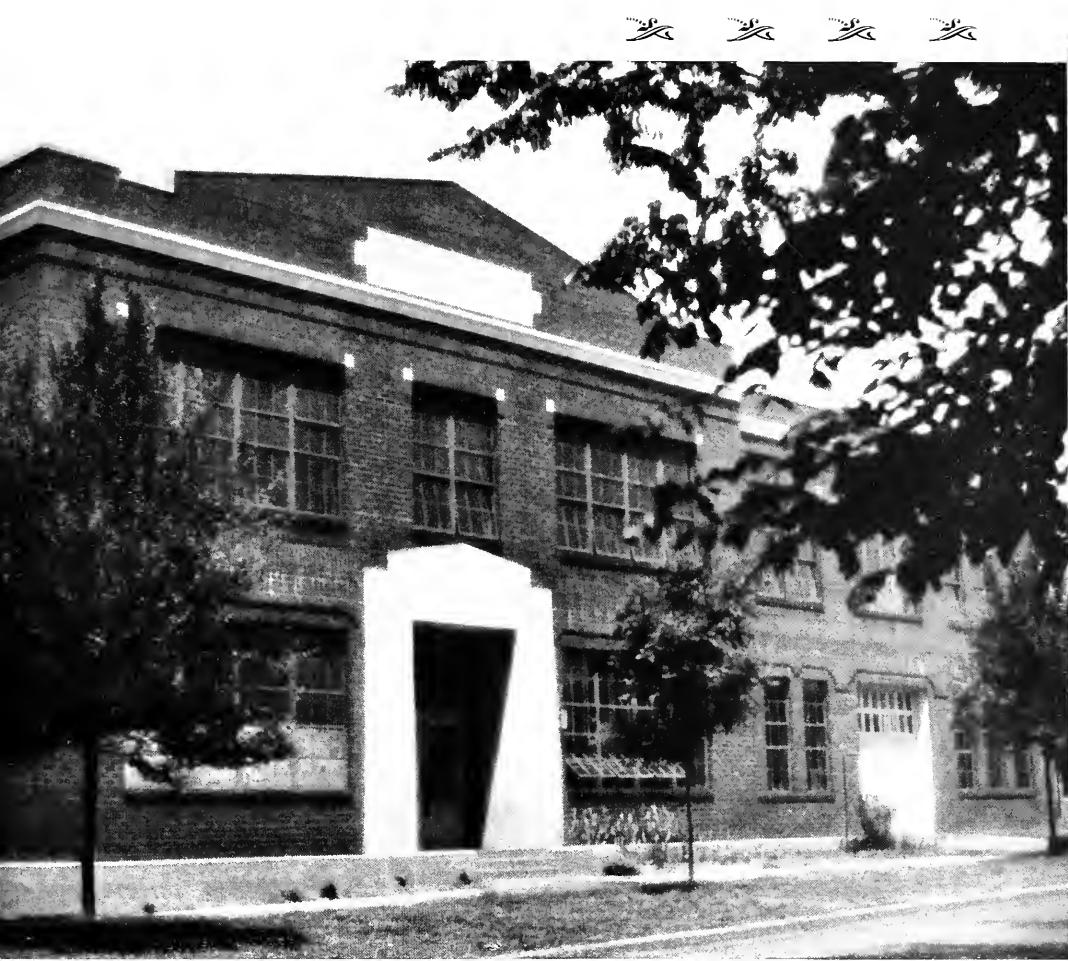

Devoted entirely to the school of music, Music Hall is an extremely beautiful structure.

TRANSITION

▼ ▼ ▼ Rapid changes, accelerated by unheard-of scientific discoveries, and accentuated by phenomenal medical re-adjustments, throw the youth of America into the rapids of an ever-changing social order. The class-room discussion of today comprises the history of human development of tomorrow. A very short time converts conveniences into inconveniences. We find ourselves drawn through strange avenues by impulses we do not understand. Blindly we admire and follow political gods, accepting their "sure cures" and praising their futile efforts. We then awake to the realities of life to find that prosperity is still "just around the corner," and once again we start on a vigil to find just the man for the occasion. The great sweltering mass of humanity seems to be lost in the maze.

Mechanic Arts

Representative of its name, Mechanic Arts offers practical training in several phases of mechanics.

DEVELOPMENT

▼ ▼ ▼ Thirty-four years of engineering, planning, hoping, foresight, determination, courage and realization have brought us a truly great institution. The proverbial and somewhat trite phrase that "Rome wasn't built in a day" applies with a high degree of forcefulness to the development of this college. The lives of many great men are closely interwoven with the growth, the evolution, of Pitt Teachers. Pre-eminent among these men is the personality of W. A. Brandenburg. Chosen as a leader and given the title of president, from the beginning he set about building and engineering what we enjoy today. To posterity goes the assurance that he is still building.

Gymnasium

With an immense floor space, swimming pool, lockers, showers, class rooms and offices the Gym is the sports center of the campus.

COURAGE

▼ ▼ ▼ Its meaning has resounded and echoed from all corners of the earth. From the hysterical doughboy wallowing in the mire and gore of war to the bereaved bedside of a sick loved one, it has undergone constant change. We, college seniors, on the eve of graduation, standing on the threshold of life itself, pause for a brief moment while the dead generations hurl the word at us again. The vast significance of its true meaning stuns us. We are momentarily dumb in the maze of lost hopes, joys and aspirations. Suddenly we are struck by the realization that life is ahead, that the hopes, joys and aspirations, to be won or lost, are yet to be encountered. A deep breath, a firm grip, a clear mind and we step forward. Yes . . . courage.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts building, providing complete and commodious facilities for industrial education, is used exclusively for industrial and applied arts.

“WHAT WE ARE”

DREAMS

▼ ▼ ▼ Come, Oh Imagination! and on swift wings.
Carry me with thee to thy realms of fantasy. There let me live and breathe of air unknown to earthly men.
There permit me to use of your atmosphere enough to build a castle higher than space. There allow me to converse with thy children, love, hope and joy. There may peace and rest be found for a practical-minded soul.
Come, Oh Imagination! tarry no longer. I am weary.

College Lake

The genuine beauty and sereness of nature is well exemplified in the grace and dignity of the College Lake.

“WHAT WE ARE”

BACKGROUND

▼ ▼ ▼ It is against such a background as this that the 1937 Kanza makes its appearance. Robert L. Hitch is the Managing-Editor, Dorothy Jenkins the Assistant Manager, and Harlan Miller the Assistant Editor. The printing was done by the College Printing Department under the supervision of Mr. Leroy Brewington. The engravings were made by the Mid-Continent Engraving Company of Wichita, Kansas. These persons have sincerely endeavored to present a truly vivid picture of the wholesome and democratic atmosphere which prevails always on the Pitt campus.

Horace Mann

In Horace Mann the college student receives actual practice in teaching in the elementary grades.

Brandenburg Field

Offering the finest in track, field, and stadium, Brandenburg Field is one of the best to be desired.

A mighty empire in itself, born of prosperous children and wealthy with abundant resources, Kansas is typically the great western gateway. Populated with sturdy people who are brilliant of mind and sound of body, she freely gives to the nation its greatest men.—Above map obtained through courtesy of The Consolidated Printing and Stationery Company, Salina, Kansas.

Governor

Fortunate indeed are the educational institutions of Kansas in having as their governor Walter A. Huxman. A friend and a student of education Governor Huxman is ever ready to lend a helping hand or give a word of cheer or advice. His frequent visits to the Pittsburg campus have been joyous occasions and are always welcomed and appreciated by the students and faculty.

General Office

"Ask at the general office, they can tell you!" The valuable and efficient service which the general office renders daily to the college is a most important cog in the machinery of a great institution. The office has charge of all finance matters, tuition, fees, admissions to athletics, contests, concerts, plays, loan funds, Federal relief funds, dormitory rents, cafeteria receipts, and the routine process entailed in the expenditure of such funds.

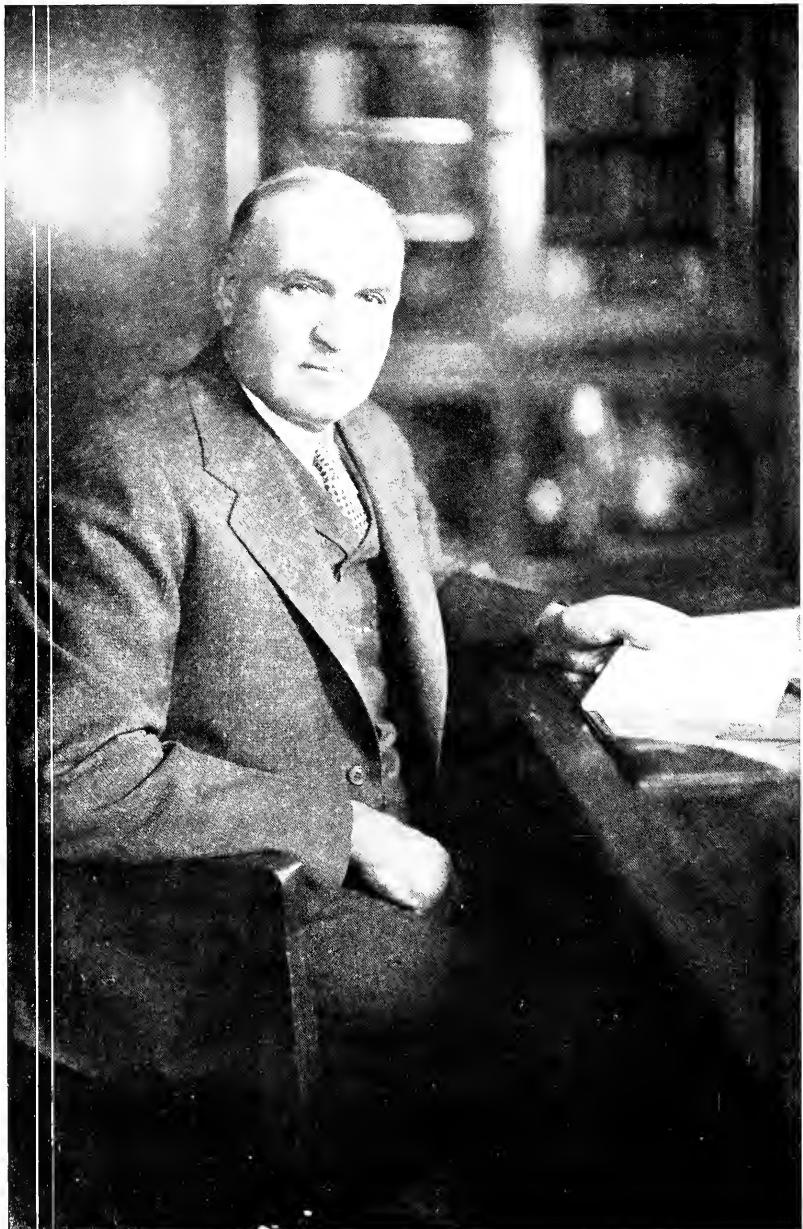

Recognition and appreciation is certainly due Miss Provorse and her staff of assistants for the fine spirit in which they carry on their work.

The management of the state institutions of higher learning in Kansas is in the hands of the State Board of Regents. The members of this board are appointed by the Governor of the state. The State Board of Regents was established for the purpose of administering state schools within the limits and accomplishments of higher education.

Members of the board visit the various state schools frequently and seek to unite their activities into an effective educational program.

MATHEMATICS

The nature of mathematics is twofold. On the one hand it deals with the quantitative relations between material objects, and thus it is an indispensable tool in the realms of business, economics and science. On the other hand it develops sequences of theorems in logical order without any regard to whether the results of these investigations have immediate or future practical utility. The beauty of mathematics is seen both in its pure logic and in the service it renders as a means of expressing the laws and relations of the universe.

The departmental faculty: J. A. G. Shirik, head of the department; L. E. Curfman, Frank C. German, R. W. Hart, W. H. Hill and R. G. Smith.

HISTORY AND SOCIAL SCIENCE

People today are reorganizing the great importance of a knowledge of the historical, social, political and economic principles which underlie all progress. The need for men and women who are familiar with the above fields is greater today than at any other time since the adoption of the Constitution of the United States. The history department recognizes this need and provides a solution in two divisions. The most important deals with the social, economic and political problems by providing courses in these general fields.

The department faculty: G. W. Trout, head of department; Oren A. Barr, Elizabeth Cochran, O. F. Grubbs, F. N. Howell, Earnest Mahan, Lula McPherson and J. C. Straley.

COMMERCE

The commerce department recognizes the growing demand for teachers with a major in commerce. This department gives a complete course in business to enable students either to take up teaching of commerce or to fill a position in business. The department has two divisions. One is for those wishing to teach. Some of the subjects taught, particularly in this division are: shorthand, typewriting, accounting and departmental methods. The other division is for those who wish to prepare themselves for a position in the business world. In addition to the basic subjects in business courses in auditing, personal management and labor problems are taught.

The departmental faculty: Walter S. Lyeria, head of department; Willa M. Dush, L. C. Guffey, J. U. Massey, Lillian I. Miller and Mary Lee Hageman.

MUSIC

The school of music stresses three phases of music education: leadership, creative talent and appreciation. The purpose of the department is to create and develop a sincere appreciation for music in both the student majoring in the specialized music curriculum, and in those for whom music is of secondary interest. The department also strives to train teachers to develop this appreciation in their students.

The departmental faculty: Walter McCray, head of department; Rose Buchmann, Gabrielle Campbell, Edna Fowler, Rheta Hesselberg, Marjory Jackson, Florence Kirby, Claude Newcomb and Ruth Stamm.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR WOMEN

This department aims to bring to women as called in the college, contact with activities which will develop her physically, provide for a worthy use of leisure time and develop character. If the occasion occurs, we want her to be trained to organize a leisure time and health program for the people of her community and to establish these on an educational basis. The department trains those enrolled in physical education courses to teach in high school or college. The women's inter-mural athletic program is sponsored by this department for all the women in college.

The departmental faculty: Irma Gene Nevins, director; Hazel Cave, S. Lucile Hatlestad and Minerva Wootton.

SPEECH

The department of speech trains students to express themselves well. The primary function of this department is to prepare teachers of speech. In attaining this end the secondary aim of teaching the students to speak well is also attained. The department has charge of all extracurricular activities in speech. Besides the regular curriculum a debate section is maintained which trains students to compete in various inter-collegiate contests in forensics. Students who have graduated with a minor in speech have been unusually successful in obtaining teaching positions.

The departmental faculty: J. R. Pelsma, head of department; Eula Olea Jack, assistant.

RURAL EDUCATION

Rural education is one of the important factors in the rehabilitation of our national life. It includes not only the training of the rural teacher, but also the secondary and elementary schools of the rural trade-centers, the county seat towns and country villages. These towns are largely dependent upon agricultural support, and their school population is chiefly rural. Too little attention is given to the training of teachers and school administrators for this most important phase of education. The division of rural education offers a two year curriculum for the training of rural elementary teachers.

The departmental faculty: E. E. Stonecipher, director; and Flora E. Holroyd.

SERVICE BUREAU

In the eyes of the students of the college this department ranks among the top as it is through the efforts of its personnel that information concerning vacancies is obtained. The department gathers information about the student and then recommends him for a position that he can fill when such a vacancy arises. Many students owe their success in obtaining teaching positions to Mr. Householder.

The staff: S. L. Householder, director; Elia Jenson, assistant.

Y. W. C. A.

When one realizes "the power of the pen," he feels a qualm overtake him when he attempts to put even world on a page; yet realizing the far reach of the words which an individual can write, an opportunity is had to write to all those now on our beloved K. S. T. C. campus. Y. W. C. A. sends a word of remembrance and of cheer. The local organization specializes in making girls at home on the campus and in preparing them for a full rounded life. The Y. W. C. A. carries on an active program throughout the school year.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

The relationship between the language and the thought of a nation is very close. Just as history shows the facts of its progress, so its literature shows its larger and most characteristic thoughts, its philosophy and analysis of those thoughts, and its language the mould in which those thoughts are cast. International continuity depends largely on those who can interpret for other nations these thoughts and their analysis and can recast the mould into the familiar one. Today more students than ever are confronted with the problem of a reading knowledge of one or more foreign languages. This problem is met by the courses in French, Latin, German and Spanish taught in this department.

The departmental faculty: Samuel J. Pease, head of the department; Leeta S. Guernsey and Mary Ellen Howe.

ART DEPARTMENT

The art department aims to prepare students to fill positions as supervisors and departmental teachers of art and to help elementary teachers understand its value and its relation to the general curriculum. Several practical courses are offered in the crafts. These are: art metal, jewelry, bookbinding, basketry, pottery and leather.

The department faculty: Elsie L. Bowman, head of department; Bertha A. Spencer.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR MEN

The purpose of the physical education department for men is to provide systematic forms of daily exercise and other forms of sports to develop this in our men to produce never-flaunting loyalty, high ideals, the spirit of unselfish cooperation and the ability to think swiftly and accurately. This department has charge of all inter-collegiate athletics, including football, basketball, track, tennis and golf. Special theory and practice in athletics and physical education courses are offered, the completion of which prepares students to direct such activities in schools and colleges.

The departmental faculty: G. W. Weede, head of the department; Edward Howell, John F. Lance and Charles H. Morgan.

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

Significant and numerous changes have taken place during the last twenty-five or thirty years in the field of industrial education. These changes involve terminology, philosophy, definition of objects and methods of construction. This department has several divisions. Printing is an important division of its kind, as it is one of the most efficiently operated units of its kind. The department serves the school's needs in the line of printing. Woodworking teaches skill in working with wood. Machine shop teaches students the fundamental techniques and methods used in the metal working industries.

The departmental faculty: W. T. Bawden, head of department; E. W. Baxter, George E. Braley, LeRoy Brewington, Forrest K. Bryan, F. H. Dickinson, O. W. Hankammer, H. V. Hartman, Stanley Hlasta, Robert Thompson, Chas. R. Wasser, A. H. Whitesitt and Laurence Cutler.

GEOGRAPHY

Because of the fundamental character of the geographic element in human affairs, fostering success when recognized and utilized, and failure when misunderstood and ignored, geography occupies a position of prime importance in education and in the conduct of human affairs. Geographic relationships are inherent and basic in the location and expansion of all the world's industries and institutions. The geographer is the engineer who knows upon what hidden piles and caissons the economic edifice of structures stand or should be raised and who suggests utilization, location or adjustments of physical conditions. It is the aim of the staff of the department to organize the course of instruction in such manner that the student not only may understand the principles themselves but also their application in the lives of the world's peoples.

The departmental faculty: Eulalia E. Roseberry, head of department, Etelka Holt.

PSYCHOLOGY AND PHILOSOPHY

The growth of the science of psychology may be measured by its extended applications in the solution of problems of household, law, medicine, criminology, and industry. Also the state and art of psychology has been broadened. The science of psychology and Philosophy has enlarged its field to such an extent that nearly every department in the college has in its curriculum a course dealing with the psychology of its application. One of the outstanding courses is educational psychology, which deals directly with the psychology of teaching.

The department faculty: C. B. Pyle, head of department; J. A. Glaze and Paul Murphy.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

It is the function of the Department of Education to provide the professional training required of teachers, supervisors and administrators in the public schools. Professional standards of teachers in education are increasing rapidly. It is now necessary for a principal of an accredited high school to have a minimum of eight semester hours of graduate credit in professional courses relating to secondary organization, administration and supervision. The superintendent of an accredited high school in Kansas, who has not had at least two years of administrative experience, must have earned thirty semester hours of graduate credit in educational courses relating to elementary and secondary work. The department faculty: C. W. Street, head of the department; Ernest M. Anderson, Hadley Brewington, D. M. Bowen, Thelma J. Carnazey, Jane M. Carroll, Daphne V. Cross, Edna P. Day, Ralph A. Fritz, Temple Hill, Flora Holroyd, Callie M. King, W. E. Mather, Edgar Mendenhall, Ethel M. Peck, Gladys Rinehart, E. E. Stonemipher and Velda M. Williams.

BIOLOGY DEPARTMENT

In this age of an ever increasing complexity of living one is confronted with the difficult problem of making a harmonious, happy and profitable adjustment to a rapidly changing social order. Because so many of the factors involved in such an adjustment are of a biological nature, or are intimately associated with biological phenomena, the necessity of a thorough understanding and appreciation of the fundamentals of biology is becoming more apparent. It is with this thought in mind that the work of the department of biology is organized and conducted.

The department faculty: O. P. Dellinger, head of department; J. Ralph Wells, Harry H. Hall, Claude Leist, George E. Ruggles and J. A. Trent.

HOME ECONOMICS

One of the fundamental institutions of the race is the home. There is no vocation that claims the services of a greater number of people than does homemaking. We are born into homes, and sooner or later the large majority of us leave them. There is no larger group of people on which the happiness and comfort of a large group of people depends. Modern homemaking draws upon a broad background of practical information and skills of science and art. The primary function of the home economics department is to prepare teachers of homemaking, but in accomplishing this aim it also reaches its secondary goal of preparing young women to live their present lives more abundantly and to conduct their future home making more successfully.

The departmental faculty: Josephine Marshall, head of department; Cecilia Ensmann, Pearl Garrison, E. Louise Gibson, Annie Marriott, Lillian Schmidt, and Lillias D. Francis.

Y. M. C. A.

The College Y. M. C. A. attempts to develop an adequate philosophy of life and a sane view of current social, economic and political problems through its weekly forums, retreats and cabinet meetings. With this end in view, the organization presents a series of speakers who, through their experience and wide participation in various fields, were able to help the students secure a balanced philosophy and informed attitude on many questions. This group has been quite active in sponsoring activities in which the whole student body have opportunity to participate.

The Y. M. C. A. presents a broadening side of life which is essential for a college education.

LIBRARY

Books and library service are an essential part of any educational institution. In the library, students and faculty may find information that will help them to know and to understand what is happening in the world. "When people and they begin to reason and when they reason they progress." For reference and research work a large and valuable collection of reference books is provided.

The library staff: OdeLLA Nation, Mary Lois Moberg, Esther A. Park, Anise Sanford and Mary E. Sherfy.

ENGLISH

"A person is known by the quality of English he uses." This is certainly true of teachers. The English Department trains students in the fundamentals of grammar and sentence construction, as well as to give an appreciation for literature in the rhetoric courses which are required of all those hoping to obtain a degree from this institution. The English Department offers a widely diversified course in literature. Some of the courses taught are: Shakespeare, Eighteenth Century Prose, English Literature and American Literature. The department also offers a division for those interested in journalism.

The departmental faculty: Mellicent McNeil, head of department; Ernest Bennett, Adele M. Burnett, J. G. Eaker, Elmina E. Graham, and Dero B. Robertson.

CHEMISTRY

The events of the past decade have pointed unmistakably to the beginning of a new era, an age of chemistry. In the past the increased requirements for the necessities of life, food, clothing and shelter, have been met largely by increasing the tillable acreage or the demand upon nature's resources. Recent developments indicate that sooner or later the natural sources of formation of most necessities are being replaced by new rapid synthetic processes capable of unlimited expansion, the result of scientific study. These discoveries exert a tremendous effect upon economic conditions which is reflected through every other phase of our existence. It is the purpose of this department to teach the fundamental principles of science and their application so that students may be able to contribute their part to the advancement of science.

The departmental faculty: L. C. Heckert, head of department; G. E. Aherathy, O. W. Chapman, Margaret Coventry, E. W. Jones, Wm. H. Mathews and W. B. Parks.

REGISTRAR

The Registrar's office is of vital importance to each and every student who attends K. S. C. T. Safely housed in its dependably built high school and college records of the students. As these are permanent, the concern is that each student may strive to make his record as nearly perfect as possible. The office force deems it a privilege to be of service to students, faculty, and friends of the institution.

The staff: L. A. Guthridge, registrar; Angel Bezingue, Effie Embree and Leota Chubb.

SMITH - HUGHES

The Department of Smith-Hughes vocational educational is a service organization planned especially to help in the organization and operation of vocational evening schools and day schools. This type of work has reached enormous proportion in the state of Kansas in the last few years. Through cooperation of the department of printing, we are able to issue from time to time vocational bulletins which will help in the promotion and better understanding on the part of the people of Kansas just what opportunities are available for vocational work in the local communities.

The staff: Laurence Parker, director, and Norma Tomasi.

Student Government

Student Council

The Student Council is the governing body of the students of Kansas State Teachers College. The council consists of thirteen members and the president.

Ursel Coulson was elected president of the council in the election held in the spring of 1936. He assumed his duties at the end of that semester. One of the duties of the president is to arrange for and have charge of every other chapel program, alternating with Prexy in presenting the year's chapel programs. Ursel was sent to the National Student Council Convention in New York City. He gave a most interesting and informative report to the student body upon returning.

During the course of the year the Student Council has sponsored several social activities. Two of these were dances, one of which was an afternoon dance. This dance was well attended by the student body. The other was the annual Varsity Prom which is one of the biggest dances held on the campus. It has been called the best dance of the year by many students. The funds raised by selling tickets to the Prom were used to send the president to the National Student Council Convention. The council also figured prominently in the Home Coming Day activities early in November. Members of the council were instrumental in keeping up the tradition of "Apple Day."

In the way of actual legislation, this year's council has done a great deal. One of the most important measures sponsored by the council was the Officers Training Seminar. The Seminar was held for the purpose of training college students who aspired to be officers and also to aid those who held office in the way of personality building. Dean Trout lectured on parliamentary law. Prof. Massey outlined a central banking system which would aid organizations in taking care of funds. A test was given all officers with which to rank their fitness. As a whole the Seminar was quite successful.

The council owes a great deal of its success to the sponsor, Miss Lula McPherson, who has advised most ably.

Pan-Hellenic Council

The Pan Hellenic Council of K. S. T. C. is composed of delegates from the four Association of Education Sororities: Sigma Sigma Sigma, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Theta Sigma Upsilon, Pi Kappa Sigma, and the fine arts sorority, Phi Mu Gamma.

Each sorority is represented by the president, one upper classman and one lower classman. Meetings are held the second Monday of each month at the various sorority houses. The officers of the council are selected in rotation by the various sororities.

The local Pan Hellenic is under direct control of the Association of Education Sororities council. It furnishes standards of excellence along every line of sorority endeavor and furnishes material on matters particularly pertinent to the sorority world in general.

The duties of the local council are to promote sorority welfare, to establish bonds of friendship among the sororities of our campus and to settle any disputes which might arise. PanHellenic makes rules regarding rushing and all the sororities must abide by them.

This year a committee from the council met at the beginning of the year and planned the meetings for the year. The programs have been versatile and interesting. Miss Garrison spoke to the group on

Pan-Hellenic Council

“Clothes and Personality.” One meeting was dedicated to the Horace Mann Centennial, in December. The pledges of the various sororities were entertained at a tea and the Polymnia Club sang several Christmas carols. At each meeting any member may bring up problems relating to sorority life.

The council always sponsors a formal dance for the members of sororities represented in Pan Hellenic. This year the dance was held February 12, at the Elks Ballroom. About 125 couples attended the dance.

Pan Hellenic is most influential in producing harmony among the Greeks on the campus and is very active in campus activities.

For the year 1936 and 1937, the officers, were:

President, Viola Misner, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Vice-Pres., Margaret Marty, Theta Sigma Upsilon; Recording Secretary, Dorothy Reed, Pi Kappa Sigma; Corres. Sec., Edythe McDonald, Phi Mu Gamma.

Faculty advisors of each organization are ex-officio members. Miss Lula McPherson is Pan Hellenic Advisor.

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA

Alpha Sigma Alpha was founded in 1901 at Farmville, Virginia. At present there are twenty-three chapters extending from Massachusetts to California. Eta Eta Chapter was organized on this campus in 1931.

Alpha Sigma Alpha is a wide awake sorority. It is a group composed of girls from all fields of education and fine arts. The chapter endeavors to produce women of poise, power, personality and purpose, who shall be noted for their character, calibre, culture and charm. The strong group spirit and willingness to participate in different types of activities has kept Alpha Sigma Alpha in a prominent position for many years.

The chapters are drawn together by national conventions which are held every two years and by the bi-monthly magazine, the Phoenix, which is the official publication.

Phi Mu Gamma is a National Fine Arts sorority embracing the four arts: music, drama, art and speech. The organization was founded at Hollins College, Hollins Virginia in 1890. Delta Chapter of Phi Mu Gamma was founded on this campus in 1918 as Lambda Phi Delta and in 1930 Lambda Phi Delta was merged with Phi Mu Gamma.

The purpose of Phi Mu Gamma is to bind together a group of girls interested in one or more of the fine arts, and that through friendship, cooperation and constructive criticism each girl may attain success in her chosen field and be a credit to herself, to the school and to the Phi Mu Gamma. Each girl has either a major or a minor in one of the fine arts and takes an active interest in her own department as well as the other arts.

Each year a spring recital is presented by Delta Chapter in the College auditorium. The recital is given to demonstrate the talents representing the four arts and to show the achievement of each girl in her department.

Through Phi Mu Gamma, loyalty to ideals is fostered, lasting friendships are formed and a bond of fellowship is forged which can never be broken.

Sigma Sigma Sigma was founded at Farmville, Virginia, on April 20, 1895, by a group of eight prominent girls. Tri Sigma was a charter member of the Association of Educational Sororities.

Chi Chapter was established here at Pittsburg in 1922 and was one of the first sororities on the campus. There have been approximately two hundred girls initiated into the Chi Chapter. Among them have been Kanza queens, football queens, freshman queens, beauty queens and the only girl editor of the Kanza. Tri Sigmas are always found among the campus leaders in student problems, in social functions and in scholastic records.

In society we find Sigma Sigma Sigma at the top. Her formals, dances, teas, bridge parties and moonlight picnics have been high-lights in many a co-ed's life. Everything that it takes to make a real sorority may be found in Tri Sigma.

Sigma Alpha Iota is a national professional music fraternity for women. The fraternity, established in 1903 in Ann Arbor, Michigan, and incorporated in 1904, has 71 chapters in the United States. National honorary members of Sigma Alpha Iota are Lily Pons, Elizabeth Rethberg, Rose Bampton, Gladys Swarthout, Myra Hess, Mrs. Edward McDowell, and many others. In order to keep the chapters in close touch with the national organization and with each other, they have been grouped into eight provinces. These provinces are arranged geographically. Each province holds a convention alternating with the National Convention. The purpose of these conventions is to create a strong bond of fellowship between the chapters and members, inspire enthusiastic interest in local and national affairs, and provide a means for comparison in scholarship, musicianship and accomplishments.

Alpha Kappa Chapter was established in Pittsburgh in 1930, this college being the first teacher's college to have a chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota. The honorary members of this chapter are: Rhetia Hesselberg, Helen Jepson, Helen Marshall, Mrs. Jay Wilder, Mrs. Ralph Smith, Mrs. Richard Gray and Mrs. Lewis Jackson. Recitals are presented each month, several of which are open to the public. Chapter meetings are held each week, and although Sigma Alpha Iota is not a social fraternity, it has always had a house on the campus and holds recitals, teas and parties during the year. Each member receives the fraternity magazine, "Pan Pipes."

THETA SIGMA UPSILON

Theta Sigma Upsilon was founded in 1907 at the Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, Kansas. In May, 1923, Miss Roseberry, a member of the Board of Advisors for Alpha Sigma Alpha, called a group of girls together and arranged for starting a new local sorority. The name Theta Sigma was given the chapter and May Webb was chosen as advisor. The following year because of the fact that only one girl of the original group returned.

reorganization was necessary. Marie Baldridge was elected president of the reorganized sorority. The primary aims of this sorority were leadership, scholarship and friendship among college girls. From that time until the present Theta Sigma has been living up to these ideals.

On the evening of December 13, 1924, the national secretary-treasurer, Miss Frances Hashbarger, assisted by Brunhilde Oakleaf, Nora Belle McLean and Ida Alford of the Alpha chapter conducted the impressive installation services in the Harmon home on Quincy Avenue. Seventeen girls received the degree of membership and formed Epsilon Chapter of Theta Sigma Upsilon.

Kappa Delta Kappa Fraternity was founded in 1926 when six students rebelled at some of the unreasonable practices that were being carried on by some of the campus organizations. These young men applied for a charter and their request was granted in 1927 by the State Charter Board. Since that time the fraternity has prospered as one of the leading social groups of the campus.

The purpose of Kappa Delta Kappa is to encourage and promote good scholarship, clean athletics and right living in general. This purpose has been accomplished by encouraging the fraternity members to participate in all school affairs with the goal of sportsmanship rather than victory. The fraternity has stressed scholarship as one of the qualifications for a good fraternity man.

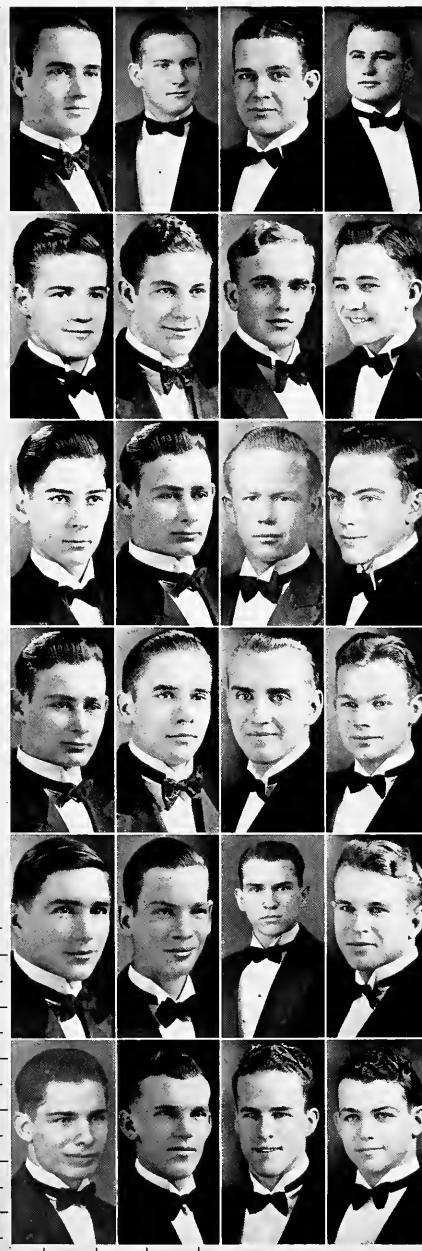

Kappa Delta Kappa men enter into all extra-curricular activities. Some of these activities are forensics, music inter-mural athletics, scholastic fraternities, Y. M. C. A. and many others.

During the year an extensive social program is carried on. A party, picnic or hike is provided for the members once a month. In addition to these two formal dances are given each year. One of these is a Christmas formal with the decorations appropriate for the holidays. The other is held late in the spring. A Founders' Day Banquet is held in the latter part of February in honor of those who founded Kappa Delta Kappa.

Phi Sigma Epsilon was founded at K. S. T. C. of Emporia in 1910. Beta Chapter was organized on this campus in 1926 and became affiliated with the national organization in 1927. The national organization now consists of twelve chapters in teacher's colleges.

The fraternity has as its aim the fostering of the mental, moral and physical attributes of its members. These high standards are maintained through a selective pledging system by which new members are added each semester.

who receive training that helps them to take their places in society. The aim is achieved by the many social and curricular activities engaged in by the fraternity.

The fraternity sponsors various projects during the year, the most important being the annual Phi Sig Frolic and the Mother's Day Banquet. The Frolic is presented in the form of a musical extravaganza at the College Auditorium providing entertainment that is looked forward to. The Frolic presents something new in music and dancing that has a definite cultural background. On Mother's Day the members entertain their parents with a reception, open house and banquet at the College Cafeteria.

Sigma Tau Gamma is the oldest and largest national teachers college fraternity. It was founded at Warrensburg, Missouri, in 1920. The local chapter, Epsilon, being organized in 1924. There are eighteen chapters scattered throughout the middlewest and eastern states.

The local chapter, which was the first Greek letter social fraternity on this campus, has for its members those college men interested in a well balanced social and intellectual college life. A good scholastic standard is required for membership and interest in all college projects is encouraged by the organization.

Socially the chapter entertains members and guests with two formal dinners during the school year. The first is a Thanksgiving dinner and the second, in the spring, is a Founders' Day Banquet. Two formal dances are staged, one a Christmas party and the other a spring formal. Besides the two formal dances, informal house and lawn parties are held every two weeks.

The chapter enters into all college activities, including, athletics, decoration contest, pep club programs, student administration and other forms of extra-curricular endeavor.

Inter-Fraternity Council

OFFICERS

President .....	Bob Hitch
Vice-president .....	Allen Shaffer
Secretary-treasurer .....	Robert Krehbiel

The Inter-Fraternity Council was organized in 1931 and as its name implies, is an organization representing the social fraternities on the campus. Formerly the Inter-Fraternity proceedings were held among the sponsors of the various men's Greek organizations and although this method was effective, a need was felt for an Inter-Fraternity organization in which immediate members of the organization could meet under the sponsorship of the dean of men and discuss their various problems, personally. It was also felt that this new arrangement would bring about a closer relationship between the fraternities than had been possible in the past.

The first meeting place for a period of time was the dean of men's office. Later the plan was adopted to have the meetings at the different fraternity houses. This plan is still in effect. Originally each organization was represented by its president and one representative with the organization having the presidency of the Council represented by its president and two representatives. Since then, however, membership in the council has been increased to three members from each organization.

From the beginning the officers of the organization have been rotated from one fraternity to the other. Starting with the oldest organization and on down the order, so that each year each fraternity has one of the three offices.

One important function of the council is its sponsoring an annual inter-fraternity formal dance. To this dance all men belonging to Greek organizations are invited thus making it a great medium in the furthering of friendly relations between the fraternities.

Kappa Mu Epsilon is a national honorary fraternity for college students majoring or minoring in mathematics. Kansas Alpha Chapter was installed January 30, 1932, with twenty-seven charter members. The requirements for membership are at least fifteen hours of mathematics and a high scholastic standing in both mathematics and general scholarship.

The aims of Kappa Mu Epsilon are: to learn to appreciate the beauty of mathematics, to foster scholarship, and to have fellowship and friendship with individuals and organizations interested in mathematics.

There are now fourteen chapters in accredited colleges located in Oklahoma, Iowa, Illinois, Mississippi, New Mexico, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Louisiana, and Alabama.

Kansas Alpha Chapter celebrated the fifth anniversary of its founding on January 30, 1937. Many alumni members attended the banquet and initiatory services which were held on that date.

Phi Upsilon Omicron, a national professional home economics fraternity, was founded at the University of Minnesota, February 10, 1909. The original club was limited to thirty members. Later the need for a larger organization was felt by girls outside this group. However, the founders of the club did not wish to throw it open to a larger membership. After much thought they decided to change the club into a Greek letter organization, thus leaving the field free for the home economics association to develop into an organization representing the entire home economics student body.

At the present time there are twenty-two active chapters and six alumna chapters. Eta active chapter was installed as Kansas State Teachers College, Pittsburg, Kansas, July 3, 1920. Eta alumna chapter was organized a short time later. There have been six new active chapters installed recently.

Each year the Eta chapter does some professional work. Part of this is to give a scholarship to the sophomore home economics student who has the highest grades during her freshman year.

Phi Upsilon Omicron owes its name to Prof. John Hutchinson, head of the department of Greek at the University of Minnesota. After several interviews he submitted several suggestions, and from them a committee chose one which has become a part of Phi Upsilon Omicron. Probably he never realized how many lives his work would influence.

This paragraph from Professor Hutchinson's letter shows how well he grasped our ideals, how well he understood what the founders of Phi Upsilon Omicron were trying to do.

"Our motto must, therefore, be Greek in work only—in spirit perhaps, also, in this at least—that all attempts to reduce to order the disordely; to combine the practical with the ideal; to make material conditions minister to a healthy and harmoniously developed body under the control of a spirit in love with order and attuned to harmony—all this is the very essence of Greek Pedagogy."

Members are: Aunita Hinkley, June Stewart, Harriett Potter, Mildred Collins, Ruby Emmitt, Lillian Wilkins, Ruth Wilson, Frances Wallbank, Virginia Rickinson and Glenna Ferguson.

The Advisory Council is composed of Josephine Marshall, Margaret Coventry, Eva Young and Annie Marriott.

Pi Kappa Delta is a national forensic fraternity composed of those who have achieved recognition in debate, oratory or extempore speaking.

The Kansas Theta Chapter was installed in 1931 and approximately one hundred and eleven have been initiated. Annual initiations are held each spring.

This year's group entered six debate tournaments. In all these tournaments Pittsburgh ranked high but in the state tournament they achieved unusual honors. The debate team of Howard and Pratt won the men's division, the girls team, Clemens and Bowman placed second in the women's division, Miss Briggs placed second in women's oratory and Howard and Pratt tied for first in men's oratory. Ursel Coulson was awarded second place in extemporaneous speaking at the Chickasha Women's College tournament.

Several tournaments and matches were held on this campus. Leo Howard and Allan Pratt defeated the Arizona University team in a match debate. The college was host to twenty-three junior college teams at a tournament sponsored by the fraternity. Bob Hitch won the oratory contest over a field of thirteen participants.

In the junior college division the school was represented by Aaron Butler, Richard Schiebelbusch, Don Wider, Joe Harrigan, Kiehl Bowling, Allan Pratt, Leo Howard and Harlan Miller. The senior college division was represented by Richard Halbert, Paul Tatum, Virgil Coopridge and Ursel Coulson. In the women's division the representatives were Ella Bowman, Virginia Clemens, Mona Mae Huffington, Frances Greher, Josephine Walker and Mary Ruth Rider.

Phi Alpha Theta is an honorary fraternity in history. It was founded in 1931 by Dr. Andrew N. Cleven and two of his colleagues to honor those students who could boast a vital interest in history.

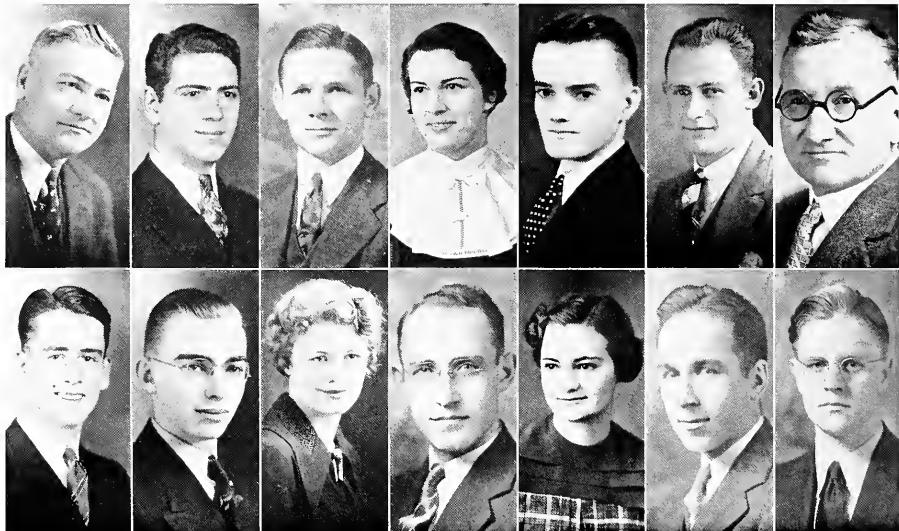

Lambda chapter was installed at K. S. T. C. in Pittsburg May 16, 1930. From the original group of thirty-six members, the chapter roll has grown to a total of one hundred thirty members.

Scholastic requirements for the fraternity are exacting and definite. Membership is limited to majors in history who have a record of at least twelve hours in history averaging a B plus, with two-thirds of the general work averaging B.

Monthly meetings give opportunity for the representation and discussion of subjects beyond those offered in the class room. Two social meetings during the school year promote fellowship and further interest in history. Initiation services are held in the fall, spring and summer semesters.

A scholarship key is awarded on Commencement Day to the member of the fraternity who has the highest average in history during his four years of college. The key for 1936 was awarded to Alva Clark. An additional award of ten dollars is presented to the major in the department making the highest average in history during his four years of college. Arnold Irwin received this award for 1936.

The semi-annual publication of the fraternity is The Star and Serpent, the present editor being Miss Lula McPherson, a member of Lambda chapter.

Sigma Phi Mu, an honorary fraternity, was organized February 13, 1928, by students in the field of psychology and philosophy. In addition to an unusual interest in these subjects, all members are expected to possess a high scholastic standing and leadership ability. To meet the scholastic requirements a student must have superior standing in psychological and philosophical subjects, and at least average ranking in his other subjects.

The fraternity seeks to promote the scientific spirit and maintain high social, intellectual and moral ideals. Subjects of interest beyond the classroom are presented by members of the fraternity, faculty and prominent visitors of the college. Social activities offer an opportunity for more intimate fellowship among members and with the faculty.

Sponsors: Dr. C. B. Pyle, Dr. Paul Murphy and Dr. J. A. Glaze.

Active members are Arthur Boulard, Garret Morrison, Fred Childress, Mary Gilchrist, Robert Strawn, Garth Thomas, Howard Siple, Joe Bachman, Elizabeth Daniels, Harold Peck, Cecilia Enzman, Harold Kidder, Imogene Wise, James Foresman, Rodney St. Claire and Edgar Leonard.

Lambda Sigma Kappa, professional pre-medical fraternity, is one of the oldest organizations on the campus, having been organized in 1912. Meetings which are held every other Thursday evening consist of a program with a local doctor as speaker followed by a social hour. Lectures on diabetes, radium therapy and similar topics were given this year.

Until this year, membership was limited to young men at the pre-medical phase of biology, but this year the fraternity was opened to women enrolled in pre-medical work. Members are eligible on the basis of the number of grade points per semester hour.

The sponsors this year were Prof. Claude Leist and Dr. J. Ralph Wells.

Members: Gerald D. Tague, Clair Bluhbaugh, Ann Harr, John L. Schwab, Wendell Johnson, Virginia Sample, Charles Vilmer, Dorsey Ssott, Pauline Keller, Roberta Matuschka, Ruth Crawford, Richard Shireman, Allen Shaffer, Beryle Smyson, Robert Huggins.

Pi Omega Pi, the national commercial teachers honorary fraternity, was founded at Kirksville, Missouri, June 13, 1923. The Omicron Chapter was established February 8, 1930, on this campus with thirteen charter members.

The purpose of the organization is to promote fellowship among commercial teachers, to encourage, promote and create interest and scholarship in commerce, to encourage and foster high ethical standards in business and professional life and to teach ideals of service as the basis of all worthy enterprises and to aid in civic betterment of colleges.

Membership is limited to those majoring or minoring in commerce who meet a high scholarship requirement. To become a member of Pi Omega Pi it is necessary to have earned ten or more semester hours of college credit in commerce, with an average of at least 90 per cent in all commercial subjects and five semester hours of college credit in education, with an average of at least 85 per cent in all subjects other than commerce.

Pi Omega Pi has regular monthly meetings, sponsors social activity for the department and holds three initiations and banquets each year for new members.

The active members of Pi Omega Pi are: Gerald Bailey, Margie Banzet, Hallie Bennington, Marjorie Bowyer, Delores Brant, Leon Couch, Elizabeth Daniels, Helen Duncan, Willa Dush, Mary Lee Hagemann, Fred Jarvis, Ella Jensen, W. Alpha Zeta Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an international honor society in education, was established on our campus March 14, 1925. It is the thirtieth established chapter of the 113 in the society. There are more than six hundred members of Alpha Zeta Chapter.

Its purpose is to encourage a higher degree of consecration to social service, maintain the highest educational ideals, foster fellowship, scholarship and achievement in educational work.

Initiations are held each semester and summer. Membership is open only to juniors, seniors and graduate students who have a high scholarship record, possess leadership and desirable social qualities.

An alumni banquet is held each year during commencement week at which time initiation is conferred on one or more persons who have made outstanding contributions in furthering the progress of education.

The Festival Chorus was organized in 1914, presenting the first Music Festival in the spring of 1915. The chorus is under the direction of Dr. McCray, head of the Music Department of K. S. T. C. Each year the chorus, cooperating with the Festival Orchestra, presents the Spring Music Festival.

The festival usually runs four days and has been self-supporting. In connection with these festivals an inter-state high school contest is held, and in this way thousands of people are reached every year with artists of note and the choral work, besides the stimulus of the contests. The seventeenth annual contest was held in 1936.

Among the artists who have taken part and who, but for these festivals, would have been unheard in this section are: Mesdames Alda, Clausen, Galli-Curci, Shumann-Heink, Talley and Van der Veer; Messieurs Alt-house, Crooks, DeLuca, Lazara, Martinelli, McCormack, Middleton, Paderewski and others.

The Festival Chorus

Several nationally known critics have commented favorably on the chorus. Some of these comments are: "It was a most remarkable thing for the chorus to do so well in work so difficult as Verdi's 'Requiem,'" "It was a great show of unity of voice, orchestra, and director.

Since the beginning of the festival, many major choral works have been presented. Among these works are: Bruch, Fair Ellen; Coledridge-Taylor, Hiawatha's Wedding Feast; Gounod, Faust; Hadley, Ode to Music; Handel, Messiah; Haydn, Creation; Mendelssohn, Elijah; Parker, Hora Novissima; and Verdi, Requiem.

Women's Glee Club

GABRIELLA CAMPBELL, DIRECTOR

The women's glee club of K. S. T. C. is under the supervision of Miss Gabriella Campbell. It is composed of girls who are music majors, music minors and girls from other departments in the college interested in music. Membership is gained through a series of try-outs held in the fall of every school year. Any girl who enjoys singing is eligible. The final group is selected in two divisions, the first or regular glee club and the second or reserve group. The first club is limited to thirty or less in order to accommodate them on bus trips out of town. The reserve group gives the girls opportunity to continue singing after high school days are over, to be ready at a moments notice to take the place of a regular club member when necessary, and it gives to the festival chorus a larger group. The reserve group practices with the regular group.

The activities, concerts and road trips of the club afford the girls many fine experiences and good times. This year the Polymnia Club has performed in chapel, broadcast over KGGF, Coffeyville, made half or whole day trips to neighboring towns and sung before the National Federation of Women's Clubs, the crowning event of the year.

Miss Gabriella Campbell, a member of the music faculty, has been the director of the Polymnia Club for several years. Her clubs have appeared before the State Music Federation and the Kansas State Music Teachers' Association. Elsie Clark is the accompanist.

The officers of the Polymnia Club are: Helen Marchbanks, president; Irene Overly, vice-president; Opal Clark, sec'y-treasurer; and Betty Redmond, Librarian.

The members are as follows:

First Soprano: Janus Brome, Irene Overly, Helen Marchbanks, Dorothy Dean Eyestone, Edith Wheeler, Muriel Richards, Jeanne Malcolm, Marian Lantz, Betty Dorsey, and Margery Wells.

Second Soprano: Sarah Allai, Betty Redmond, Dorothy Jones, Mable Johnson, Katherene Parker, Pauline Thompson, Opal Clark, Marguerite Wilbert, Pauline VanLandingham, Dorothy Decker, Thelma Stephenson, Lorene Gaines and Rosamond Huttons.

First Alto: Elsie Clark, Wanda Sedoris, Irma Ahrens, Lena Pender, Gladys Rodick, Ellen Stout, Margaret Meyers, Elizabeth Leeka, Vernita Mooney, Floella Nowell, Emogene Anderson, and Pauline Keller.

Second Alto: Ruth Pease, Gertrude Sellmansberger, Lorraine Lyerla, Betty Todd, Jane Way, Magdalene Schmid, Merle Farni and Eugenia Johnson.

Men's Glee Club

CLAUDE R. NEWCOMB Director

LOIS HUNT, Accompanist

The Men's Glee club is an organization composed of those men who have had successful auditions as to the quality of their voice. All men interested in music who have voices of a good quality and are willing to work are eligible for membership.

The club provides an opportunity to study a wide variety of choral compositions and is of great value as a recreational or extra-curricular activity. Several trips are taken each year to neighboring towns. There the members get experience in singing before audiences and the pleasure of traveling.

The club is an integral part of the Festival Chorus which is a feature part of the Musical Festival each spring. During the year several appearances are made in chapel.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia

The Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia fraternity of America is a professional music organization for men and has fifty-five chapters in the United States. The primary purpose of the organization is to advance the cause of music in America. In addition to this it strives to foster mutual welfare and brotherhood of students of music, to develop the truest fraternal spirit among its members and to encourage loyalty to the alma mater.

In endeavoring to advance the cause of music, special emphasis is given to American music, as has been the case since the organization of the Alpha chapter at the New England conservatory Boston, Massachusetts, on October 6, 1898.

Phi Mu Alpha chooses for its members those with outstanding music ability, a desire to take an active part in the promotion of the cause of good music and of high scholastic rating. "A manly musician and a musically man" is the motto of the Sinfonia.

It is the custom of the chapter to take an active part in the activites of the music department during festival week and to entertain the soloists and judges.

The untiring efforts of Dr. Walter McCray, head of the music department, have exploded the old idea that a teachers college could not maintain a strong chapter. Only those institutions doing outstanding work are honored with the privilege of having a chapter of the Sinfonia.

The officers for the year 1936-37: Ruel Griffin, president; Bill Stoskopf, vice-president; Jack Foster, secretary and treasurer; Vincent Dussair, warden; Bill Bowen, historian; Dr. S. J. Pease, supreme councilman.

The active chapter: Art Mitchell, Jack Foster, Clifford Watson, James Mayes, Bill Stoskopf, Ruel Griffin, Bob Nevin, Bill Bowen, Vincent Dussair, Charles Duncan, Joe Malachay, Carl Rodick, Ohm Poli, Bob Finley, Lon Campbell, Joe Malachay, Carl Rodick, Ohm Poli, Bob Finley, Lon Champlain, Dr. Pease, Dr. McCray, Professor Newcomb and President W. ## The 1937 KANZA

The 1937 Kanza has been produced as a true picture of life on the campus of K. S. T. C., Pittsburg. The book depicts the activities of student and faculty members in school, in extra-curricular functions and in social life. It has exemplified our life theme which is, "What we are." Through it portraying our life in the way that others see us we hope that it may be possible for us to pick out our defects and correct them.

The first part of the Kanza deals with what we are in our classes. The second part presents us in our social and extra-curricular life in the form of social and scholastic fraternities, clubs, the publications and athletics.

The theme for the 1937 Kanza is "What we are." What we are in school—at home—in our business relations—in politics—in our social life. In these modern times of speed and hurry it is well to stop a moment and take stock of ourselves. Just what are we doing? Where are we going? What will we be when we get there? The staff of 1937 Kanza feel that if our book has made the student body take inventory of themselves, if it has given them a picture of the simple, nob'e things of life, that our book will have been a success. Perhaps there has been no time in history when a strong character was so necessary as it is today. This fact is emphasized throughout the book.

The staff wishes to take this opportunity to thank those who have helped make this book possible. We wish to thank Joe O'Neill for writing the sport copy. We are deeply indebted to Bill Dillman, representing the Mid Continent Engraving Company for his advice and service. We especially wish to thank the men in the printing department, without whose help it would be impossible to publish a yearbook. They are: Mr. LeRoy Brewington, Mr. Lawrence Cutler, Mr. Robert Thompson and Mr. Stanley Hlasta.

In journalism lingo "30" means the end, and that is what this represents—the end of another year for The Collegio. Founded in 1923, it will soon observe its fourteenth anniversary as the official news publication of the college.

The Collegio is a seven-column, four-page paper published weekly under the direction of an editor chosen for a nine-week period by the Board of Publications of which Dr. O. A. Hankammer is chairman.

To present College news promptly and accurately is the aim of The Collegio. Carrying out these ideals are the editor, staff members, and newswriting classes. During the first semester Fred Childress edited the paper. Esther Sherman was second semester editor.

Art Club

The Art Club was founded October 18, 1921, by five art majors. The purpose of the club is to further the interests of art on the campus and in the community. Members of the club must have attained a required standard of scholarship.

From time to time during the school year the club sponsors and finances art exhibits brought to the campus and shown in the College Art Gallery. It is a policy of the club to purchase a new work of art from these exhibits every year. At present the club has a collection of eighteen pictures which include such artists as Birger Sandzen, Frank Branzwyn, H. Bolton Jones, Albert Bierstadt, Delle Miller and Frigerio.

Charter members of the club were: Edith Buchanan, Mildred Congdon, Waylande Gregory, Mrs. L. G. Roscoe and Helen Waskey. Many former

Education Club

The Charles W. Eliot Education Club was organized by a group of education majors and faculty members in February, 1927.

The purpose of this club is to stimulate among its members and the student body an interest in educational problems and to seek added light upon their solution to promote group solidarity; to encourage the acquaintance of instructors and students; and to countenance good fellowship by participation in social functions. It holds as its ideal the bringing about of finer human relationship by improving the personnel and equipment of the modern school.

Members of the club are chosen from the students majoring in education who have completed forty hours and (to the faculty of the department of education.) Any student becoming a member must have at least a C average.

Regular meetings of the club are held on the first Wednesday evening of each month. The meetings are varied in nature and include picnics, dinner meetings and programs by students, faculty members and speakers from outside the club.

Officers for the year 1936-1937: President, Charline Harner; Vice President, Mrs. Hester Grimes; Secretary-Treasurer, Milton Clingan and Faculty sponsor, Dr. Ernest M. Anderson.

Members are: Ruth Aldrich, Dr. Ernest M. Anderson, Essie Jane Avery, Mrs. Hallie Bennington, D. M. Bowen, Wanda M. Brand, Nina Bryan, Thelma J. Carnagey, Jane M. ## Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club, which is affiliated with the National Home Economics Association, was organized on this campus in 1919. Its purpose is to promote professional interest in the field of home economics and to develop the social life of its members.

In order to carry out these aims, the club meets once a month. An effort is made to give each girl a chance to take part in the program of these monthly meetings. This year each class was made responsible for the presentation of one meeting. A get-acquainted tea was given at the first of the year for the purpose of acquainting the teachers and the new students. Miss Louise Gibson gave an illustrated talk on her trip to the Orient. In November the meeting honored Ellen H. Richards, one of the pioneers in the home economics movement. The theme of the December meeting was "Christmas Carols." The program was given by Miss Gabriella Campbell of the Music department and part of the Girls Glee Club. The juniors' meeting concerned Home Life in the Foreign Countries. In April Miss Garrison gave a talk on Historic Costumes and the May meeting was an annual Farewell Picnic.

Each year the Alpha Gamma Tau, honorary physical science fraternity, and the Home Economics Club entertain each other with a party.

A Thanksgiving and a Christmas basket of food was taken to a needy family. Another project was the exhibit and sale of Japanese prints.

This year the Kansas Home Economics Association met here in Pittsburg, bringing many notables of the Home Economics profession. The meetings were divided into three groups, that of high school clubs, college groups and adult education groups.

The officers are: president, Willella Young; vice-president, Ruby Emmitt; secretary, Harriet Potter; treasurer, Margaret Martin; publicity chairman, Arlene Cramer and sponsor, Miss Josephine Marshall.

The members are: Marjorie Havens, Mary McCollister, Miss Gibson, Mary Allamon, June Stewart, Cecelia Ensmann, Darly Vanatta, Harriet Potter, Helen Hurse, Mildred Collins, Virginia McMasters, Miss Garrison, Thelma Baker, Madelyn Warren, Miss Schmidt, Lois Reeves, Charlene Heller, Margaret Martin, Lillian Wilkins, Miss Marriot, Marjorie Thomas, Maxine Fraizer, Mildred Gillett, Willella Young, Magdalene Mertz, Constance Dittman, Katherine Parker, Anita Hinkley, Lorene Blake, Marjorie Pittenger, Ruth Wilson, Frances Wallbank and Ruby Emmitt.

Young Women's Christian Association

One hundred six girls at K. S. T. C. "unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. They determine to have a part in making life possible for all people. In this task they seek to understand Jesus and to follow him."

The slogan for the year is:

"Hitch your wagon to the dipper,
And don't stop till you're a skipper."

The group is working on the commission plan. The five commissioners are: personal and social adjustments—Mary Hill, leader; interracial—Opal Long, leader; world cooperation—Anne Frogue, leader; reinterpretation of religion—Alice Garrison and Ruth Wilson, leaders; creative leisure—Laura Alice Kerley, leader.

Advisors of the Y. W. C. A. are: Mrs. W. A. Brandenburg, Miss Hazel Cave, Dr. Rolletta Fritz, Mrs. Edgar Mendenhall, Dean Hattie Moore-Mitchell, Mrs. F. S. Robinson, Miss Eulalie E. Roseberry and Miss Jennie C. Walker.

Cabinet members are: president, Willella Young; vice-president, Magdalene Schmidt; secretary, Margie Banzet; treasurer, Ella Jensen; book room, Dorothy Barricklow; bazaar, Loeta Chubb; Girl Reserves, Helen Church; music, Dorothy Jones; publicity, Josephine Walker; open cabinet, Lillian Wilkins.

The first Monday evening in each month an open cabinet meeting is held. All girls are invited and a social hour is enjoyed after the business is transacted. Once a week a regular cabinet meeting is held. This meeting last an hour and consists entirely of business.

Each Tuesday morning the Y. W. C. A. holds a meeting. A commission has charge of the program for each month. Alternately the Tuesday morning meetings are devoted to commission study and to the group as a whole.

Many capable and interesting speakers were heard during the year. On special occasions the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. meet together. One of the most impressive programs was a series of negro sermons written by James Welden Johnson that were presented by the beginning oral interpretation class.

The Y. W. C. A. is a unit of the Rocky Mountain Region. Each spring delegates are sent to the Conference at Estes Park, Colorado. Students Christian workers from Arizona, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Utah and Wyoming attend this conference. It is the outstanding event of the year.

The following girls hold membership in Y. W. C. A.: Sarah Allai, Mary Elizabeth Allerman, Alta Armstrong, Lucille Baker, Louise Baker, Margie Banzet, Dorothy Barricklow, Velda Barricklow, Vera Bowen, Doreen Bowers, Lorraine Brand, Wanda Brand, Janis Broome, Pauline Butler, Clarice Butterly, Harriet Ellen Carter, Helen Church, Betty Jeanne Coghill, Elizabeth Daniels, Edna May Davidson, Edith Margaret Deck, Ruth Dewey, Virginia Dickinson, Elizabeth Diggs, Katherine Dissinger, Helen P. Duncan, Lucille Farrell, Irma Lee Fegert, Olita Louise Fowler, Maxine Frazier, Alma Freeman, Florence Ava Frey, Anne Frogue, Alice Garrison, Pearl Garrison, Louise Gilchrist, Mildred Gillett, Violet Greenwood, Laura Grubbs, Charlene Harner, Anne Harr, Marjorie Havens, Mona Helm, Pauline Holman, Mildred Honeyfield, Ruth Hutson, Ella M. Jensen, Dorothy Jones, Coline Jurgens, Cathleen Kenner, Laura Alice Kerley, Frances Kerch, Edith Kurent, Marian Lantz, Jewell Lewis, Opal Lindsey, Opal Lang, Ruth Lovett, Marion Ludlow, Georgia Lukens, Mary McCollister, Margaret Martin, Magdalene Mertz, Hazel Miles, Dorothy Mitchell, Cora Montgomery, Catherine H. Schmidt, Patricia Seideman, Gertrude Sellnansberger, Nila Sewell, Adalyann Sergeant, Velma Simons, Sue Smith, Anzwilla Stinnette, Edna Storer, Mary Kay Street, Opal Swisher, Dolores Syers, Juanita Thompson, Betty Todd, Helen Townsend, Connie Troy, Marjorie Trueblood, Josephine Walker, Frances Wallbank, Janet Way, Hazel Wilkins, Lillian Wilkins, Lorene Wilkins, Ruth Wilson, Dorothy Wise, Imogene Wise, Leah Virginia Wright, Willella Young, Lorene Blake and Mary Ruth Rider.

Young Men's Christian Association

The purpose of the student Y. M. C. A. is as follows:

1. To aid students in forming an adequate philosophy of life.
2. To promote the students' growth in Christian faith and character through fellowship and prayer.
3. To assist men in adapting themselves to a well rounded college life.
4. To cultivate and develop leadership and talent among the college students.
5. To stimulate thinking among students on social and world problems.
6. To establish a desire for creative living.

The program of this year was centered around the five different commissions set up by the Rocky Mountain Regional Council; the new citizenship, world cooperation, creative leisure and personal and social relationships.

The outstanding program of the group was sponsored by Howard Siple, chairman of the personal and social relations group.

Working in cooperation with the Y. M. C. A. are many outstanding leaders of the city. The Reverends C. J. Askins, Harry Gordon, Dyre Campbell and Rankue, as well as many of the professors of the college, have been very active.

The officers of the year 1936-37 were: president, Frank Stocking; vice-presidents, Ursel Coulson and Bob Pease; secretary, Virgil Coopider; treasurer, Gerald Bailey; general secretary, Joe Bachman; sponsors, J. C. Straley, Dean Small and Paul Murphy.

The Y. M. C. A. is looking forward to another big year at Estes. Last year the group made a bus out of a truck and took forty students to the Estes Park Conference. This group consisted of students from Pittsburg, Baker University, Parsons, Independence, Fort Scott and Eldorado Junior Colleges.

The new group of officers for 1937 are: Allen Thomas, president; Hugh Bachman, Howard Siple, vice-presidents; Fred Jarvis, treasurer; Leonard Milligan, secretary; Joe Bachman, general secretary and Prof. Straley, Dean Small and Dr. Murphy, sponsors.

English Club

The English Club, organized in 1926 by Miss Elmina Graham, is composed of English majors and minors and faculty members of the English department. Regular meetings are held each month to foster the spirit of fellowship among the club members. These meetings are held in members' homes or on the campus.

The aims of the English Club are to advance the study of literature, to encourage creative writing, to foster a spirit of fellowship among those specializing in English and to form a club that will benefit all members.

Each spring a formal banquet is held in the College Cafeteria and a program of current interest is presented to the members and their guest.

Officers of the club for 1936-37 are: Lewis Corporon, president; Wilma Samp, vice-president; Magdalene Schmidt, treasurer; Ellabeth Diggs, secretary; Miss Dora Robertson, sponsor. Completing the cabinet are Edna Johnston, program chairman; Anne Frogue, social chairman and B. F. Bowen, publicity.

The members of the English Club are: Miss Dora Robertson, Mary Emzie Hamilton, Willa Hamilton, Magdalene Schmidt, Ellabeth Diggs, Jane O'Connell, Emogene Wise, Dolores Syers, Mildred Cronister, Rose Eiserman, Lewis Corporon, Wilma Samp, Aaron C. Butler, Bill Bowen, Elizabeth Daniels, Dr. Mellicent McNeil, Irene Phillips, Margaret Marty, Alice Garrison, Naomi Thompson, Miss Elmina Graham, Margaret Lill, Laura Grubbs, Margaret Young, Inez Montgomery, Maxine Daniels, Patricia Seidemann, Ruth Marshall, Martha Ryczek, Dr. Gordon Eaker, Wanda Brand, Katherine Dissinger, Violet Greenwood, Frances Hashbarger, Louise Baade, Mrs. Adele Mehl Burnett, Orille L. Eaton, Sabrina Morlan, Edna Johnston, Anne Frogue, Mariea Vaughn, Juanita Thompson, Viola Misner, Helen Smith, Vertie Hume, Helen Duncan, Mary Hill, Loretta Nichols, Ruth Lovett, Lorene Gaines, Joe Reilly, Dorothy Mitchell, Prof. Ernest Bennett and Allen Thomas.

Physical Education Major

Organized in the fall of 1930, the Women's Physical Education Major Club has as its purpose the furthering of the advancement of physical education and the establishing of closer relationships among the women students majoring in physical education through social activities. Social activities and programs consisting of lectures or discussions on topics of interest to the women majoring in physical education are held at least once a month during each year.

The first social gathering this year was a tea given in honor of Miss Irma Gene Nevins, head of the Department of Physical Education for Women, who had returned from a semester's study in New York and a summer's tour of Europe, and Mrs. Minerva Wootton, who filled the vacancy left by Mrs. Ruth Skelton. The next social meeting was at the home of Miss Nevins, who gave a tea for the majors. At the beginning of the second semester the majors entertained all the women enrolled in physical education at a tea held in the offices of the department. Just before school was out the senior majors in the department were the guests of honor at a farewell party given by the other majors.

The first program meeting consisted of reports from the majors who had attended the state Women's Athletic Association convention in Wichita in October. At the next meeting Miss S. Lucille Hailestad gave a report on the Kansas State Teachers Association meeting at Topeka. Miss Cave gave a resumé of the address given by Dr. Jay B.

Nash, New York University, at the same convention. Another meeting was devoted to the reports from delegates who attended the Kansas Health and Physical Education Association meeting in Manhattan, March 1937.

The Major Club sponsors each year the annual tri-state High School Play Day. This year it was held in October, 1936, and was based upon the Olympic Games. The Junior College Sports Day was held March 6, at which time tests were given to those girls who were interested in securing the National Intra-murals Basketball Officiating Rating. The Physical Efficiency Contests, another activity sponsored by the majors, are given each year in connection with the Inter-State High School Scholarship, held at the college each spring. These tests cover examinations of the general physical condition of each girl, her native motor ability and ability in simple athletic skills.

Officers for the year 1936-37 are: President, Alice Mae Williams; Vice-president, Edith McDonald; Dance Club, Maxine Hansbarger; Kwak Klub, Lois Sutton, W. A. A. Secretary, Doris Retig; Treasurer, Sue Smith.

The members of the club are: Barbara Batten, Pauline Butler, Betty Campbell, Lorene Carsons, Helen Church, Ruth Dewey, Delora Dyer, Elizabeth Edwards, Timothy Evans, Maxine Hansbarger, Thora Faye Nunn, Frances Polk, LaVonne Parker, Doris Retig, Marjorie Shafer, Nadine Sheffield, Sue Smith, Lois Sutton, Helen Townsend, Eva Margaret Woods, Roberta Woods and Margaret Guffey.

K W A K

The Kwak Klub was organized in 1932 for the purpose of promoting interest and improvement of skill in swimming for women. Membership is available to any college woman who qualifies by passing the tests set up by the club as their standards. A novice or full membership, once secured, may be held as long as a woman is enrolled in college providing she upholds and practices the ideals of the group.

The programs sponsored by the Kwak Klub include self-improvement in swimming, participation in the Kansas and National telegraphic swimming meet at K. S. T. C., exhibitions of swimming, and the American Red Cross Life Saving and Examiner's courses. Last year the members of the swimming team took second place in the state Telegraphic Swimming Meet.

This year the Kwak Klub included in its social activities a swimming party for all women in College who were interested in swimming. Games and races were carried on and refreshments were served afterward.

Among the members of the group in the picture are ten women who hold the American Red Cross Senior Life Saving Certificate. Two members of the group hold the highest rank in the A. R. C. courses, that of American Red Cross Life Saving Examiner. They are Helen Church and Doris Rettig.

The emblem of the Kwak Klub is a K, in school colors, formed by a duck with its wings spread to make the letter. Miss Hazel Cave and Miss S. Lucille Hatlestad are sponsors.

The officers for the year 1936-37 are: President Maxine Hansbarger; Secretary-Treasurer, Delora Dyer; Membership Chairman, Mary Helen Garrison; Chairman of Tests, Sue Smith; Chairman of Life Saving, Doris Rettig.

Willard Hall

Frances Willard Hall, at the Kansas State Teachers College, Pittsburg, Kansas, is located just across the street from the college campus. Library and cafeteria are near enough to be reached easily in all kinds of weather.

The building is well equipped for the convience and comfort of the girls staying there. It provides parlor, recreation and rooming accommodations for one hundred and nie women. Two parlors besides the large recreation room, with easy chairs, davenports, library table, radio and a large fireplace furnish a place where the residents of the Hall may meet and enjoy themselves in various forms of entertainment during open hours.

Willard Hall girls carry on an extensive social program. The whole group has dined at the cafeteria several times. Two dances are given each year besides the informal groups that assemble in the parlor every night. A ping pong table furnishes recreation for those who like to weild the paddle.

A kitchenette on each floor, equipped for service for a limited number adds a desireable and serviceable feature to the "Dorm". The basement provides full electric laundry equipment with drying facilities.

General oversight of the Hall is designated as a part of the work of the Dean of Women, Mrs. Inez Risk is resident director.

Dr. G. W. Weede, known to his many friends and admirers as "Doc", is director of athletics and head track coach. His supremacy on Central Conference cinder paths is undisputed.

Edward Howell, "Bluz" to you, head football coach was on leave of absence this year. He studied the finer points of gridiron frays at Louisiana State. Charley Morgan filled his shoes in a most able manner.

John F. Lance, one of the smartest cage mentors in the country, gave us a championship team this year. "John" has made for himself a name in the basketball world that few men can boast of.

Charley Morgan, the four letter man, is a most important cog in the Gorilla coaching staff. He is assistant track coach and tennis coach. This year he piloted our football team to the second place berth in the Central Conference.

Football Season

Over 60 men answered Coach Charley Morgan's first summons to football duty this fall. Although 17 of this number were lettermen, the season had not yet begun when it was apparent that it was going to be difficult to find men to fill the shoes of last year's departed stars, center Buster Ertz and ends, Bob Tarrant and Sumner Roberts.

had Eddie Hopkins, a sub on last year's team, as the only experienced man available for the center post. Hopkins' understudies were Wesley Gosch and Ed Mackender. Ed Ramsey and "Red" Royer, last year's reserves, were slated to be the ends, but when Ramsey injured his foot before the season started, Leo Huhn, a new man from Coffeyville Junior College, and George Milkovich, freshman from Scranton, Pa., were pressed into service.

However, there was a wealth of returning guards and tackles. Claude Hawley, Russell Lewis, Henry "Tex" Scroggins, and "Buck" Livingston were lettered tackles. Jim Yane, Bill Nylec, Jim Morey, and Pete Stith were all veteran guards. Among the many backfield candidates were seven lettermen, quarterbacks, Johnny Readecker and Kenneth "Mush" Young; halfbacks, Earl Gibson, Ted Fahrnbruch, Art Scott, and Joe Scalet; and fullback Fritz Emken. Among the outstanding newcomers were fullback Bob Hill, who became a regular, and Art Senzee and Glen Waymann, halfbacks.

The season opened at Fayetteville, Ark., with a 53-0 defeat at the hands of the powerful Arkansas University Razorbacks, whose phenomenal aerial attack later carried them to national prominence as champions of the southwest Conference. The defeat was especially costly inasmuch as Ted Fahrnbruch, Gorilla ball-lugger and star passer, received a sprained ankle that kept him from regular service for several weeks.

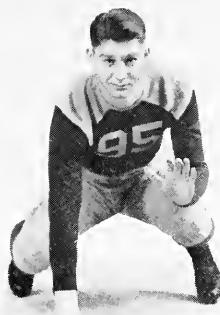

Local fans got their first look at the team the next weekend as the Gorillas were defeated by another Arkansas team, the Wonder Boys of the Arkansas Polytechnic College. The game, played here under the lights, found the Pittsburgers still dazed and bruised from their previous trouncing, and the Wonder Boys waded through them to the tune of 21-0.

In their third game the Gorillas put up a stubborn battle in going down 14-0 before the Kirksville, Mo., Bulldogs, who finished the season with an unblemished record. Play was rough, and before the final whistle blew, Johnny Readecker, Pittsburg triple-threat quarterback, was sent to the sidelines with torn leg ligaments. The homelings went down to their fourth successive defeat the following week-end. This time it was the College of Emporia by a score of 6-0.

The Gorillas were idle for a week before they journeyed to Winfield to open the Central Conference season against the Southwestern Builders. In view of the dismal early season record there was little expectation of victory, but the Pittsburgers surprised with a smashing 31-0 triumph. Veterans had rounded into form, and newcomers had found their strides, and the team performed like a well-oiled machine with plays clicking beautifully.

The Gorillas climaxed a glorious Homecoming on Nov. 7 with a 7-0 upset victory over Wichita University on a brilliant 46 yard run by fleet halfback Earl Gibson.

In their next C. I. C. tilt the Gorillas met the Fort Hays Tigers in a game that decided the championship. Although the Pittsburgers tallied 13 first downs to 9 for the Tigers, bad breaks and the Tigers' ability to make use of every opportunity gave Hays a 23-0 victory and the C. I. C. gonfalon.

Pittsburg took second place in the conference standings by handing the Emporia Teachers a 26-7 thrashing at Emporia on Thanksgiving Day. Gibson ran the ball over for the first score and later intercepted a Hornet pass and scooted 50 yards to another tally. Fahrnbruch and Scott also counted touchdowns.

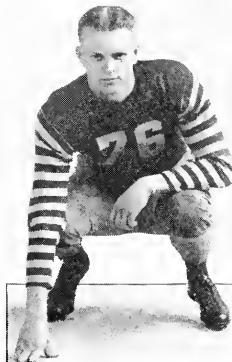

Thus ended a season which, in spite of several early defeats, can not be counted anything but successful — a season which not only saw Pittsburg take second place in the C. I. C., but also beat Wichita in the Homecoming game and administer a decisive drubbing to the traditional foe, Emporia.

Ready For The Whistle

The 1936-37 Basketball Season

A veteran squad of Gorilla Basketeers this season fought their way back into the championship fold after a year's absence as they won Pittsburg's tenth title in the fifteen year regime of Coach John Lance. Though the Pittsburghers were unable to win more than two out of six conference games on the road, an invincibility on the home court enabled them to tie Fort Hays and Southwestern for the Central Conference championship.

The Gorillas started fast, walloping the Weatherford, Okla., Teachers in their first two games and then running over Washburn by a score of 45 to 21. The conference race was opened with an exciting 41-39 victory over the sister K. S. T. C. at Emporia when Max Maletz, all-conference forward, sank the winning goals in the last minute of play.

The Maryville Bearcats administered the Gorillas' first licking by a score of 30 to 28 on the Missouri court on Dec. 20, but the defeat was redeemed in an overtime game on the home court two weeks later. After walloping Kirksville, Washburn, and Springfield on alternate nights, the Gorillas trounced Wichita U. in a fast, rough conference tilt on the home court. George Harris, hard driving senior forward, was the star of the 39-34 victory as he collected 18 points on six field goals and a like number of foul shots.

The Pittsburgers took over first place in the C. I. C. when they twice defeated Emporia for their third and fourth successive league wins. Scoring honors in the first game went to a couple of guards, scooting Clint Rankin and husky Don Saunders. Max Maletz paced the locals with 20 points in their 46-32 victory the following night.

After taking time out from conference play to welcome "home" with a defeat the former Pittsburg star, Augie Garcia, and his Mexico U. team, the Gorillas journeyed to Hays for a two game series with the undefeated Tigers. Though the Gorillas were ahead at the half in the first game, the second period saw Hays run wild and win 39 to 28. The next night a desperate band of Gorillas led all the way and staved off a last minute rally to win 31 to 29.

Returning home, the Pittsburgers pulled themselves into undisputed possession of first place with a pair of victories over the Southwestern Moundbuilders. Rankin and Maletz were high scorers in the first night's 33-27 win, while "Boog" Royer, sorrel-topped senior pivot man, paired with Maletz for honors in the following 36-29 victory.

Pittsburg title hopes suffered a severe setback when the erratic Wichita U. Shockers came to life and swamped the amazed Gorillas twice. The game, played at Wichita, found the Gorillas dazed and bewildered by a flashing Shocker attack which rolled up 29 points to 22 for the Pittsburghers in the first battle and 41 to 29 for the locals in the second.

Southwestern soon put the Gorillas back in the running by trouncing Hays twice. Sadly for the Pittsburghers, however, the Moundbuilders kept up their winning ways in their tilt with the locals, and the Gorillas lost by a score of 35 to 24. The defeat put Hays into the lead in the race with only three losses to four for K. S. T. C.

The championship hinged on the last game with Hays. If Hays won, the undisputed championship was theirs. The Gorillas had to win to share in the title. Local fans speculated as to whether the magic of the home court could strike again the victory spark after the three preceding losses in opponents' territory.

The game was close with the lead first with one team and then with the other until midway through the last half. Then with the score tied at 29, the Gorillas got "hot." Seniors, Royer, Scott, Rankin, and Harris, aided by the junior forward, Maletz, stormed down the court playing superb basketball. Hays was unable to score as the inspired Pittsburghers submerged the tall westerners under a barrage of field goals and closed their careers with a 41-29 victory and a share of the championship.

Up and Out

The 1936 Track Season

Champions for a decade!

That is the enviable title earned by the tracksters of "Doc" G. W. Weede as they won the C. I. C. championship meet for the tenth successive time. The Gorillas maintained their distinguished position as the only champions the Central Conference has known by winning the annual meet at Wichita by a scant half-point margin over the Emporia Hornets. The Gorillas scored 64 points, while Emporia tallied 63½.

Bob Caldwell threw the balance toward Pittsburg when he raced to second place in the second last event, the 220 yard low hurdles, while the favored Emporians were able to place fourth. Pittsburg, led by Donald Dunn, who took both firsts, dominated the dashes with Gus Heymann and Lester Kirk, respectively, taking both thirds and fourths.

The Gorillas were victorious in all of their dual meets except the one with Emporia. This was the Hornets second successive victory over Pittsburg and only the second Gorilla defeat in more than a decade of dual meets.

The Weede-men competed in several national meets during the year and were successful in all. They opened the season by placing first in the college division in the St. Louis Relays. Then they journeyed to Indianapolis where they carried off second place honors in the Butler Relays. In the Drake Relays, the Texas U. Relays, and the Olympic trials at the Kansas Relays the Gorillas were outstanding, especially high jumper Tom Stevens and broad jumper Kermitt King.

King gained national recognition by consistently jumping over 25 feet in the Olympic tryouts, and it was by the narrowest margins that he missed making the Olympic team. In the final trials with two men qualifying for the overseas trip King took third place.

However, Pittsburg was represented at the Olympic games—and by its most able "trackman," Director of Athletics and Track Coach Garfield W. Weede, "Doc" attended the games as the guest of students and alumni who wished to honor him for his loyal and unfailing service in the production of successful teams of the past and of days to come.

MORE MILES FOR EACH DOLLAR MORE PLEASURE EACH MILE

Bus travel is transportation at its lowest cost with every travel comfort. Santa Fe Trailways sleek Streamliners travel the broad highways of America, serving the Southwest with a net-work of lines running in every direction. Frequent, rapid service adds convenience to economy.

There's a congenial friendliness in bus travel. More millions of people travel this way than by all other public transportation combined. Santa Fe Trailways does its part to make transportation alive, friendly, human — popular with the millions who have long since accepted this modern way of transportation.

THROUGH A LAND OF ENCHANTMENT

Santa Fe Trailways is the Indian Detour—Grand Canyon route to California. Luxurious streamliners, modern in every respect, equipped with lavatories and rest room facilities, travel the historic old Santa Fe Trail — path of glory and romance.

Only Santa Fe Trailways offers the Indian Detour route, if wanted, at no extra fare. Past ancient pueblos, Spanish missions, shining in the sun. Stop-overs for a side-trip to the Grand Canyon. "Fred Harvey" meals west of Wichita where schedules will allow.

It is our wish to dedicate this page to the Athletic Department of Kansas State Teachers College.

Through the cooperative efforts of "Doc" Weede and his associates, Charley Morgan and John Lance, Pittsburg has been favorably represented in the field of sports for many years.

We wish them and the athletes under their supervision many victories in the years to come.

A Word to Graduates

The school doors are closing behind you. Ahead of you, are other closed doors which you will have to open. We know you do not expect to open them easily.

The knowledge you have gained in school will help you. However, you will need further schooling in practical financial matters.

We invite you to use the facilities of this bank. It will be a pleasure to cooperate with you in any way we can.

Congratulations upon your graduation, and best wishes for future success!

FOR YOUTH'S GREAT EVENT
GRADUATION

A rare day in Spring—a day of days which means the achievement of life's first serious ambition. So to you who wish to express your appreciation in some lasting manner, you will think of JEWELRY, WATCHES, DIAMONDS or SILVERWARE . . . the traditional Graduation Gifts. Traditional because they are beautiful, appropriate and enduring. Lasting reminders of life's first important milestone . . . and of your own thoughtfulness.

Our own stock is most complete and you may buy with the assurance of complete satisfaction.
